Girl Scout Troop Will Organize Here

Miss Winifred E. Curtis, Girl Scout Commissioner of Greenfield, spoke last week before a group of local women who were desirous of sponsoring a Girl Scout Troop in Northfield. Miss Curtis outlined the principles underlying the Girl Scout program, and told how through it girls may be offered the right kind of recreation, and adults may have an opportunity, through leadership of Girl Scout troops and as members of Girl Scout organizations, to serve their communities through serving their girls.

The Girl Scout program is planned to help girls share intelligently the values of home life, and to participate in the opportunities and responsibilities of citizenship in the world today. It is a program of mental, physical and character-building activities, with opportunities for camping and outdoor living.

Enthusiasm following Miss Curtis' talk sent several women to the leaders' training course in Greenfield, conducted by Miss Iris Woodman of Boston. Those attending were: Miss Dorothy Ingham, Miss Priscilla Colton, Mrs. Joseph Ross, and Mrs. Earl Lilly.

On Tuesday evening a group met at Crane Cottage to organize a community committee for the support of a Girl Scout troop. Those forming the committee are: Mrs. A. P. Pitt, Miss Carrie Jeanette Cook, Mrs. Fred Bolton, Mrs. Earl Lilly, and Mrs. Charles Kehl. Other members will be added later. Mrs. Kehl was chosen as chairman, and Miss Dorothy Ingham was prevailed upon to accept the office of leader and captain of the troop. Miss Ingham has had much experience with Girl Scout and similar activities.

It was decided to postpone the actual formation of a troop until after the Christmas recess. The basement of the Town Hall will be used as a weekly meeting place for the girls.

Executive Secretary Speaks At Chapel

By Roberta Houghton

Wednesday morning, as the chapel speaker, Mr. Albert Roberts, alumni secretary at Hermon and executive secretary of The Northfield Schools spoke on Thanksgiving and Thanksgiving. He brought out the accusation that is often made to the generation that we have failed to understand or to express the original idea of the day of Thanksgiving that was established by the pilgrims so long ago. In talking on this subject, he pointed out a few things for which every Northfield girl should be thankful. First, the widow with nine children who dared to face the world and do things, namely Grandmother Moody. Then, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy who once saw a grand building like Kenard, and realizing how good it would be to have one like it on the Seminary campus, erected the present administration building. And Mr. Palmer, who gave up his antiquities so that the girls might have a new recitation building.

Mr. Roberts pointed out the way of Thanksgiving and Thanksgiving, and put a different attitude into the girls as they went on planning the events for the big day.

Church Group Plans Christmas Vacation

By Mary F. MacGregor

Miss Ellen Cumber addressed the Industrial Relations Group last Tuesday concerning her social service work in London. The group was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls at their home.

Miss Cumber is an exchange teacher from St. Paul's Girls' School in London. This school has re-housed many poverty stricken families in London and is continuing this slum clearance project. The St. Paul's Girls' School owes part of its financial backing to the investment in London real estate. The land from which the school gained profits is now an overcrowded slum district. It is among the inhabitants of this district that most of the social work is done.

At this meeting the group planned to meet in the near future with the Mount Hermon group interested in industrial relations for the purpose of discussing Christmas vacation tours. These tours, sponsored by the groups, will probably occur in New York and Boston and will include visits to the slums of these cities.

It was pointed out that passenger revenue of the Boston and Maine has consistently increased throughout 1934 with the first 10 months showing a total increase of $223,934.50 (or 4.1%).

Appreciation

The annual medical report of Mount Hermon Schools has been issued by Dr. R. Bretney Miller the school physician and it contains a most appreciative paragraph of the services of our local friend and dentist of East Northfield. The paragraph is as follows:

"No report would be complete without mention of Dr. Richard Holton who has assisted greatly in cases needing dental treatment, without whose services there would be a great gap in the smooth functioning of the health unit of the school."

Kind words of appreciation are always due those who strive to accomplish and give the best that is in them. The Herald is pleased that this report was called to its attention.

Thanksgiving Program

Thanksgiving Day was observed at Mount Hermon by beginning the joyous day with football and soccer games by the members of the Junior League. Following the athletic contests, at eleven o'clock, a chapel service was held with Dr. Arthur Peter Pratt, pastor of the 2nd Congregational Church of Greenfield.

The dinner at West Hall was served at one o'clock with all the alumni who came back from the various colleges participating in the merrymaking. After dinner speeches were made by representatives of the various classes. For the Seniors, James Phillips was the speaker, for the Juniors, Lyman Thomas, Richard Buck was the representative for the Sophomores, and for the Freshmen William Thompson. The most outstanding feature of the afternoon, was the basketball game between the Seniors, and the Alumni aggregations. The Seniors have been practicing for this game for about a week, and made a good showing against the Alumni. Among the Alumni present were the following: from Yale, Tom Yaw, and Richard Watson; from Lafayette, William Wild-Hoy, and Ned Johnson; from New York University, Gescheidt, Gaunt and Martucci; from Rutgers, D. U. Smith, Richard Marshall, John Van Meter, Brink, Neander, and Draper Rice; from Brown, Drury, Chase, Keith, and Hersey; from Dartmouth, Peck, Sherman, Kurras; from Williams, Herbert Fell; and from Harvard, Mandell. Others were present from other colleges to make a total of about 50 altogether. The alumni were taken care of in student rooms, and in the homes of some of the members of the faculty.

Seniors Defeat Juniors

Last Saturday afternoon the annual Senior-Junior Football game was played. The game was postponed several weeks ago on account of the interscholastic match with Williston Academy. The game was hard fought, but the Seniors managed an easy victory over the Junior team. When the final whistle blew, the Seniors were ahead by the score of 14-0. Both teams were sadly weakened by the loss of several members, and since the teams last played together, there have been many things to upset the equilibrium of both teams, but in spite of that fact, the Seniors played a good grade of football and won the annual, which determines which class has possession of the class baby.

Annual Race Run

Last Tuesday afternoon at 2:45 P.M. 59 representatives of the six social clubs on the hill started on the one mile and a half race. At the signal from the starter's gun the mob was off on the mad dash around the course. Competition was keen, and resulted in many close finishes. The first men to finish were as follows: Oldershaw, Hedman, Milton, and Blanchard.

The club to have the most men finishing first was the Good Government Club, and they again won the cup, which is awarded to the winning club, for the fourth consecutive time.

Thanksgiving Baskets

For the past week or two, Mount Hermon has been making a drive to raise enough money so that some of the poor families in the surrounding community could have a happier Thanksgiving Day. The drive was sponsored by the Social Problems Club on the hill, and about twenty five dollars was raised which was enough to supply a little more than a dozen baskets for the poor.

Social Items

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan L. Baxter, Mr. Carleton L'Hommedieu, Mr. Richard Merian, and Mr. Lawrence L. Daggett, were among those present at the Yale-Harvard football game last Saturday. They also spent the week-end following the game.

Mr. Ray L. Armstrong, of Mount Hermon School, spent the last week-end in Bennington, Vt. with some friends.

Mrs. Charles Scheid was a week-end visitor on the Mount Hermon campus over the last week-end.

Mr. Richard Merian spent the Thanksgiving vacation at East-hampton.

Miss Louise Lovell, and Miss Dorothy Peasele spent the Thanksgiving vacation with their families in Manchester and Franklin, Vt., respectively.

The Eastern Star Will Give A Play

The Northfield Chapter of the Eastern Star is to put on a "great show" at the Town Hall on Monday evening December 17th. It is called "Mrs. Beverly Bifocals" and the cast provides for eleven characters with three acts.

The characters will be taken by local people and an announcement of the same will be made in the next issue of The Herald. Reserve the date and plan for an evening of much fun and enjoyment.

Vernon Underpass To Be Improved

The town of Vernon at a special town meeting to be held Tuesday December 11th will probably vote an appropriation apportioned to it by the public service commission of Vermont under a plan to widen the underpass at the Central Vermont railroad a mile north of South Vernon, to relocate the highway leading to and from the underpass, and to lower and drain the underpass, also for land damages.

Since the last hearing before the public service commission on the proposed underpass changes the engineers have found that to swing back the wing walls as proposed at that hearing would add so little to the line of clear vision of the highway over the original plan that it was thought best to work out still another plan, which has been done and which would give the desired improvements and a somewhat larger cost.

This improvement when completed will be appreciated by the motorists of Northfield who enjoy and travel this route to Brattleboro on the west side of the river.

The "Blue Bag" Was Appreciated

Once more a Senior Class has presented its play to a Northfield audience. "The Blue Bag" contains smuggled jewels was finally found after a thorough investigation by the Customs Officer (Stanley Newton) at the Macklyn Hotel, whose owners (Cindy and Obadiah Macklyn) (Peggy Gray and Philip Mann) played well their parts to add humor to the scenes. The bag was found on the person of the first guest at the country hotel, Antonio McDonald (William Ross) who was in search of a lady with a blue bag as the chauffeur George Reynolds (Joseph Butinski) had so won the affections of the maid Chattanooga (Elvira Livermore) (Eleanor Long) that she was on the lookout for the bag.

She knew that Enid Lawton (Marian Leach) who was cloping with Allan Ross (Raymond Plotzky) but posing as his sister until after the ceremony, had a blue bag, as did also Letty Long (Mavis Haven) an actress but also posing under the name of a writer whose name she noticed on a magazine cover but which happened to be that of the plume of Enid Lawton. She also knew that there was another blue bag, that of Molly Keefe (Martha Stebbins) with whose husband Jim (Lawrence Glazier) she was in search of the blue bag which had been accidentally exchanged at the customs office.

Mr. Taylor who so ably directed the play announced the features between acts—dancing by Winona Robinson and members of Miss Bagley's dancing class in Greenfield. Home made candy was sold by the class. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the play and appreciated the efforts of the High School Senior Class.

In the afternoon a dress rehearsal was given which was attended by a number of children from the graded schools.

Our Social Work

A new book by the famous Lilian Wald of New York City "Windows on Henry Street" is a delight and a challenge to all persons who have the highest interests of young people at heart.

Two quotations from the book suggest the work Northfield persons are doing with our young people.

"Through recreation, festivals, plays, music, all intertwining education and the arts, the world has barely awakened to the force, and the importance that may be afforded to old and young, to the happy, to the weary, and to the inhibited." George Bernard Shaw says: "Every device of art should be brought to bear on the young, so that they may discover some form of it that delights them naturally, for there will come to all of them that period between dawn adolescence and full maturity when the pleasures and emotions of art will have to satisfy cravings which, if starved or insulted, may become morbid and disgraceful satisfactions."

Floyd Anderson the janitor of Henry Street House in New York City, and for many years a support and comfort to the staff, encouraged a new resident who was troubled about the noisy, obstreperous boys: "Don't worry, Miss. I've been here so long—I've often seen them come in wild and go out gentlemen."

Bubblin's an' B'ilin's

A new book has been issued by the Tuttle Co. Publishers of Rutland Vermont entitled "Bubblin's an' B'ilin's at the Center" from the pen of Merle Graves a real son of New England. The author records the doings and odd drolleries of Yankee individuals in the days of old in the average corner grocery town. It is a book not of cheap humor but of a depth of deep appreciation of by-gone Yankee wit and proves reading most entertaining and exhilarating. It is a book for all "Yankees" to absorb no matter where they are living.

An ideal book for a Christmas gift.

Treadway Appreciates Interest Of Voters

Congressman Allen T. Treadway is back in Washington attending to his many duties in preparation for the coming session of Congress. He has announced his intention to support Congressman Snell as the minority leader but is non-committal on other matters. He has stated recently that his intention of giving an innovation in service to all the voters in the 1st Massachusetts district comprising Berkshire and Franklin counties and parts of Hampden, Hampshire and Worcester counties. He is arranging a schedule of gatherings in the important centers before the opening of Congress so that the voters may meet with him and give him first-hand, personal information regarding their interest in matters likely to come before the House in next session.

This is a rather unique precedent as members of Congress generally depend for such information upon voluntary correspondence from constituents. But Mr. Treadway feels that now more than ever the voters should be as well informed as possible and let their opinions be known before legislation is acted upon. So he does not intend to wait for the folks back home to write to him, but he is going through the district, to find out what the people are thinking about public questions.

Northfield will be visited and it is hoped that many of our citizens will greet him and vent their opinions upon the "New Deal" and other matters political.

HIGHWAY HIGHLIGHTS

How's Your Knowledge of Cars, Roads, Travel?

IN ONE LARGE COUNTRY NO PRIVATE CITIZEN MAY OWN AUTOMOBILES

Q. In what populous country is the ownership of automobiles by private citizens prohibited? A. In Nepal, the country extending for 520 miles along the southern slope of the Himalayas in northern India. With a population of 5 million, only members of the royal family and high officials are permitted to own automobiles. A total of 150 are registered there.

Q. What National Park is snow bound a good part of the year? A. Glacier National Park, in Montana, is open only three months of the year.

Q. What is meant by "bad road tax" in highway parlance? A. The term is used to suggest that it costs more to operate a vehicle over a bad road than a good one. Tests have shown a saving up to two cents a mile on a 10-mile stretch of road carrying 1,000 vehicles a day, the total saving to the motorists using the road would be $200 a day.

Q. Why is highway construction a most practical form of unemployment relief? A. Because the work is not confined to any one locality, it can be put under way with few preliminaries and it puts most of the cost back into labor. Records show 91 cents of the highway dollar goes to wage earners.

Q. Should large or small trees give the most wear? A. Large ones, other things being equal, because they require fewer turns per mile of road contact.

Q. Is the gasoline tax imposed by states on motorists the same as a general sales tax? A. No, it is a sales tax, usually for roads, on one class of purchasers—road users.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

The Reducing Craze

Certain it is that style can dominate common sense. For when fashion decreed "girls shall be thin at all costs" judgment was thrown to the winds.

It isn't a case of ignorance. I've talked with too many girls, mothers, and teachers to believe that lack of knowledge is entirely to blame. The girls know, but for the sake of what they think of as attractiveness and appeal, they are willing to take long chances. And too frequently they lose. There is no greater folly than that of tinkering with Nature. We always suffer in the end.

In this instance the girls are showing how tragic the loss may be by having more tuberculosis than any other age group. They show it in poor posture. They show it in poor school work and in easy fatigue during sports where they should excel. They tire early at dances, relying too often upon stimulants, whether coffee or spirits, to whip up an exhausted nervous system, only to make matters worse, for these supposed stimulants are really depressants.

Perhaps more knowledge is necessary, but, instead, I believe it is a new "attitude" that is needed, a new point of view concerning what really is fashionable. How to bring it about, I don't know. But I am convinced that we must learn how. Surely a great responsibility is facing every good parent and every sincere teacher.

Fighting winter colds, and the value of milk, fruits and other protective foods in building up resistance, will be discussed by Dr. Ireland in next week's article.

Speedboat Title Won With Ford V-8 Motors

A. J. Schwarzer, New York,
driving "Riptide," powered with a Ford V-8 motor; won the world's championship in the new 225-cubic-inch class international power boat race during the President's Cup Regatta in Washington
D. C.

His victory was on points under rules of the American Power Boat Association. The fast boat with its Ford V-8 engine took second place in the first heat and won a clean victory in the final heat. Three of the four leading point winners in the race were driven by Ford V-8 engines.

It was the second decisive championship for boats powered with Ford V-8 engines. At the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto,
H. A. Wilson won the championship in the new 225-cubic-inch displacement power-boat class. Three of the five leading point winners

in that race were driven by Ford
V-8 engines.

The information was received at the Spencer Bros. Garage this week.

Spent $844.20

To Be Elected

It has just become known that Congressman Allen T. Treadway expended $844.20 for his nomination and election this fall. His official return, which has been filed with the town clerk of Stockbridge shows that his famous lead pencils
several thousand of which he distributed during the campaign,
cost him $145.8
